Bio and Professional Skills:

Jeff Anthony, after 30 years of consistent work, is one of the most accomplished and recognized members of the Mid-Atlantic region's events production community.

A former Marine and decorated Vietnam Veteran he attended Georgetown University before pursuing a career in Arts Management and Event production.

After a stint with the National Endowment for the Arts Music Program and serving as Director of Community Relations for the Brooklyn Academy of Music -- one of the nation's premier production venues -- he then turned his talents to event production. He has since worked in theater, dance, concert, international touring, virtual events, webcast, political and corporate events, and has served in many capacities, Project Manager, Producer, Technical Director, Production Manager, Tour Manager, and Stage Manager.

His clients have included: The Smithsonian Institute, IBM, Google, YouTube, the National Broadcasters Association, the Girl Scout Council of the Nation's Capital, the Committee to Promote Washington, the Presidential Inauguration Committee, the Congressional Black Caucus, Audi, Pharma, Freddie Mac, Colgate Palmolive, US Olympic Committee, Maryland Public Television, The National Park Service, Cirque De Soleil, National Association of Black Owned Broadcasters, among others.

Immediately following the events of 9/11, Jeff contracted with the USO to provide production services for overseas tours aimed at entertaining US troops worldwide, including Afghanistan and Iraq.

One sign of his character and ability to satisfy a roster of demanding clients is represented by the longevity and duration of his many contracts, most lasting over an extended period of years.

Education:

Georgetown University, Washington, DC
B.A. in Public Administration and Fine Arts, Fine Arts concentration in Music Performance (Double Bass)

University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, PA
Graduate work toward MFA in Theater Production
